Extreme Reading at Weston Park Primary School

Dear Parents and Carers,

At Weston Park Primary School the children have been getting really stuck into their topics and exploring many different texts and stories linked to what they are learning in class. It is a really exciting time at school as we develop reading further for all our pupils!

Where is the most extreme [yet safe] place you have ever read a book? Whether it is on top of a mountain or stood on your head, we want your photos! Your challenge is to have your picture taken reading somewhere and bring it/send it into school by Monday 4 November 2019.

Obviously, you must keep safe (I wouldn't recommend reading in the jaws of a shark!) but we are really looking forward to seeing who has the passion for reading and capturing the most extreme photo.

There will be a prize awarded to a pupil from each year group. Are you up for the challenge?

Teachers across the school will be getting involved in this extreme reading challenge as well, so keep an eye out for what crazy places they are trying to get caught reading in.

If you do not have access to a printer, email your photo to info@weston-park.org.uk with your name and class.
